

London Highlights / Gem's ✨

Best Burger

The Duck Shed serves slow roasted pulled duck three ways – in a wrap, bun burger or fresh salad box. Each can come in a variety of styles and are served with homemade sauces and relishes. The popular Vegan-nese Duck caters for the non meat eaters.

Best Pizza

Flour to the people

A true Italian Sourdough pizza prepared 48 hours before served to customers and guests. Topped with only fresh and authentic ingredients. The crust is very soft but still thin and crunchy. It is a steal, you have to try!

573 Battersea Park Road, London SW11 3BJ

Best Sweets

Ben's Cookies

They make the best cookies on the planet. Everyone who tries the cookies is delighted and wants to know where they can be bought. I can recommend the tastes White Chocolate & Canberry and Triple Chocolate Chunk.

Covent Garden, Bond Street, Oxford Street, ...

Best Museum / Exhibition

Seeing Auschwitz is an exhibition that includes 100 photographs, sketches and testimonies about the Holocaust and Auschwitz. It looks at each image in detail, takes a closer look at the people in front of and behind the camera lens and questions each image. Visitors are confronted with what it means to go beyond the gaze of the perpetrator to better understand the reality of Auschwitz and reflect on what it means for us today.

Best Entertainment

Backyard Cinema

„What once started as a passion project in its founders' very own back garden, Backyard Cinema has now grown to be one of the leading alternative cinema experiences in the UK. After nearly a decade of reinventing what it means to watch a movie and having now screened to over half a million customers, the team continue to look for ways to wow audiences and offer more than just the movies.“

2 Armoury Way, London SW18 1SH

Best Sight

Camden Market

Where in London can food, thrift shopping and architecture be combined and experienced together? ... right, in and around Camden Market and Camden High Street.

You should definitely take enough time with you when you are about to wander through the small slips of Camden Market.

From small shops, to exhibitions, to brand shops, to the most delicious falafel in the world at @basta.camden. The market has something for everyone.

 54-56 Camden Lock Pl, London NW1 8AF

Best View

Sky Garden

One of the most beautiful viewpoints over the whole of London is on the 35th floor, just 150 metres above street level, the Sky Garden. Entry to the "walkie-talkie" building is free, but must be booked in advance. The 360-degree view takes place on the last three floors of the skyscraper, both indoors and outdoors.

Most Fun

Harry Potter Studio Tour

On a tour of the Warner Bros Film Studios not far from London, fans can admire a model of Hogwarts as a whole. The construction was made on a scale of 1:24 and was used for exterior and aerial shots of the school.

One can explore breathtaking sets, authentic and original costumes.

Afterwards, treat yourself to a mug of butterbeer - this delicious non-alcoholic drink tastes like shortbread and butterscotch.

Best Pub

The Fellow

„Nestled around the corner from King’s Cross and St Pancras train stations, The Fellow is everyone’s favourite North London hangout. There are three floors to enjoy! From the pub on the ground floor with its own Platform 9 & 3/4, to our cocktail bar and heated roof terrace on the first floor. Whipping up delicious seasonal menus, including the best Sunday roasts in King’s Cross, and serving the best craft beers and cocktails!

Please bear in mind, from 5pm daily, we’re an over 18s pub.“

 24 York Way, London N1 9AA

Best Club

The Lexington is a classic London boozier turned lounge bar, with a hint of Kentucky charm and lashings of rock & roll excess. If you like it a little bit louder, head upstairs for the latest and greatest bands in our live venue. Then dance the night away with our family of music loving DJs, playing everything from 20s jazz to the newest indie through the sea of counter-cultural sounds into the wee small hours.

Best Walk

Aldgate to Green Park by foot

Exploring a city on foot offers an incredible number of opportunities to discover new things. The final route came about purely through intuitive walking and exploration.

Started at the end of the Metropolitan Line, along the banking district, a random glance at The Gherkin and off towards the Thames. With your favourite podcast, audio book or music on your ears, discovering an unknown city is easier than you think.

Finding your way around a city's distinctive buildings, such as here The Shard or St Paul's Cathedral.

This is also how you "manage" to discover Borough Market by pure chance. This is an absolute must for every food lover!

Further along the Thames, past the Tate Modern. A museum of the arts that has been presenting the works of contemporary artists to the public, mostly free of charge, for more than 20 years.

The Millennium Bridge adjacent to the museum offers a beautiful view of St. Paul's Cathedral and the Tower Bridge downstream.

At the end of the "London Stroll" you can do another big lap around Buckingham Palace.

Best App

Best Bus Ride

Line 98, Line 170, Line 19

Seeing the most viewed sights and attractions. Especially during the Christmas Time. Beautiful illuminated decorations, sting lights and window displays. Just sit down in the upper level of the bus and enjoy.

Best Deal

Pret Coffee Subscibtion

Coffee addicts watch out!

Pret is a British sandwich chain where coffee is particularly popular!
